HEADLESS BODY PACKED IN TRUNK.

The most brutal crime committed in greater Boston since the death of Susan Geary, a chorus girl, four years ago, and one much resembling it in its details, was disclosed last night by the discovery of a torso of Mrs. Honora Jordan, an actress, aged 23 years, of Somerville, in a trunk in a boarding-house at 7 Hancock street, on Beacon Hill, that city. The head and bones of the limbs were found in the furnace of the Jordan home, at Somerville, and the scalp, hair and other gruesome remains were taken from the kitchen range of the house.

Chester Jordan, aged 29 years, an actor, of Somerville, is held by the police, charged with the murder, and, according to the officers, he made a complete confession of the crime.

According to Jordan's confession, he accidentally killed his wife Tuesday night in a quarrel at their home, and, becoming desperate over what he had done, he went out and bought a butcher's knife and hacksaw, cut up the body and placed the torso in a trunk. He then planned to take the same Harvard Wednesday night. New York and throw the parts of the body overboard. The fact that the Harvard was laid off owing to an accident disarranged his plans, and he was obliged to hire a hackman to take the trunk to a Boston boarding-house to await a more favorable opportunity.

The discovery of the crime was due to the suspicions of the hackman, James Collins, who had in mind the numerous robberies which have taken place about Boston recently, and surmising from its weight that the trunk contained silver ware, notified the police.

Collins reported that he had taken the trunk from the North Station in the morning, it having come in from Somerville on a local train. The hackman stated that he left Jordan and the trunk last afternoon at 7 Hancock street. Sgt. Crowley was detailed to go to the house and investigate. Jordan was not in, but the officer was shown the back room on the second floor which Jordan had engaged, and found the trunk. At this time the trunk was not opened. About 5:30 o'clock Jordan returned and was commanded to open the trunk.

Jordan did not appear nervous or alarmed, but hesitated to open the trunk, and it was not until after considerable argument that he produced the key. Turning his head, Jordan threw up the cover of the trunk and then sank back on his knees, burying his face in his hands and sobbing.

Sergeant Crowley staggered back against the disclosure, for in the open trunk before him lay a sickening mass of hacked flesh, a woman's torso filling the great part of the trunk, while pieces of flesh from other parts of the body were stuffed into the corners.

NEGRO AND WIFE PROTEST.

Winfield F. Cozart, a negro, of Atlantic City, N. J., yesterday filed a formal complaint with the Interstate Commerce Commission against the Southern Railway Company, in which he charges that the company discriminated against him and his wife while they were passengers on a train from Atlanta to Washington, by compelling them to ride in a "jim crow" car.

He asked the commission to issue an order requiring the railway company to furnish the same accommodations to negroes as are furnished to white persons. The commission, about a year ago, decided that railroads could segregate colored passengers, but must provide for them the same accommodations as for white passengers.

YOUNG WIFE A SUICIDE

Ill health caused Mrs. Charles A. Small, about 25 years old, to commit suicide at York, Pa., yesterday. During the absence of her husband Mrs. Small went to the bath room, turned on the gas and then shot herself.

The husband returned home yesterday afternoon, and, upon entering the house, detected the odor of gas. He went to the bath room, and, opening the door, stumbled over his 15-month-old baby. Mrs. Small lay upon the floor, blood flowing from a wound in her right temple, and blood was also scattered upon the baby's garments. Mr. Small carried the baby to another room, turned off the gas and then summoned neighbors to his assistance. The young couple had been married only a few years, the bride being a daughter of William A. Smyer, one of York's wealthy citizens. For some time, Mrs. Small had been in delicate health.

Just a little Cascasweet is all that is necessary to give your baby when it is cross and peevish. Cascasweet contains no opiates nor harmful drugs and is highly recommended by mothers everywhere. Sold by W. F. Creighton & Co.

Good for Biliousness.

A DUAL LIFE.

The principal development at Omaha, Nebraska, of the Boston murder case yesterday was the proof that for months Dr. Frederick T. Rustin, who was murdered mysteriously as he was about to enter his own home at an early hour Wednesday morning, had been leading a double life, and that while he maintained an expensive establishment out on Fernon Hill, he also maintained a suite of rooms on lower Douglas street, near to the prescribed district. In the Fernon Hill district Dr. Rustin maintained a wife and two children with everything that money could purchase; in the Douglas street suite he maintained another woman. This woman, as far as the police have been able to discover, was the last person to talk with him before he was shot.

KILLS WOMAN HE LOVES.

In the presence of several women. Chief of Police Hinkle, of Seneca, S. C., late Wednesday shot and killed Mrs. E. L. Anderson, a young widow, fired two shots at her little daughter, but missed her and then put a bullet through his own head.

The tragedy occurred in the reception room of the home of Mrs. Anderson. Chief Hinkle had been introduced with the chief entered the reception room, approached Mrs. Anderson and asked: "Edith, are you going to marry me?" Mrs. Anderson, laughing, answered: "You know I am not."

Hinkle immediately drew a pistol and fired two bullets into Mrs. Anderson, causing instant death. Her little daughter screamed and Hinkle fired a third without effect. Then standing over Mrs. Anderson's body, he put the pistol to his head and blew out his brains, falling dead on the woman's body.
